CENTRALIAN

Salute to the Servicemen

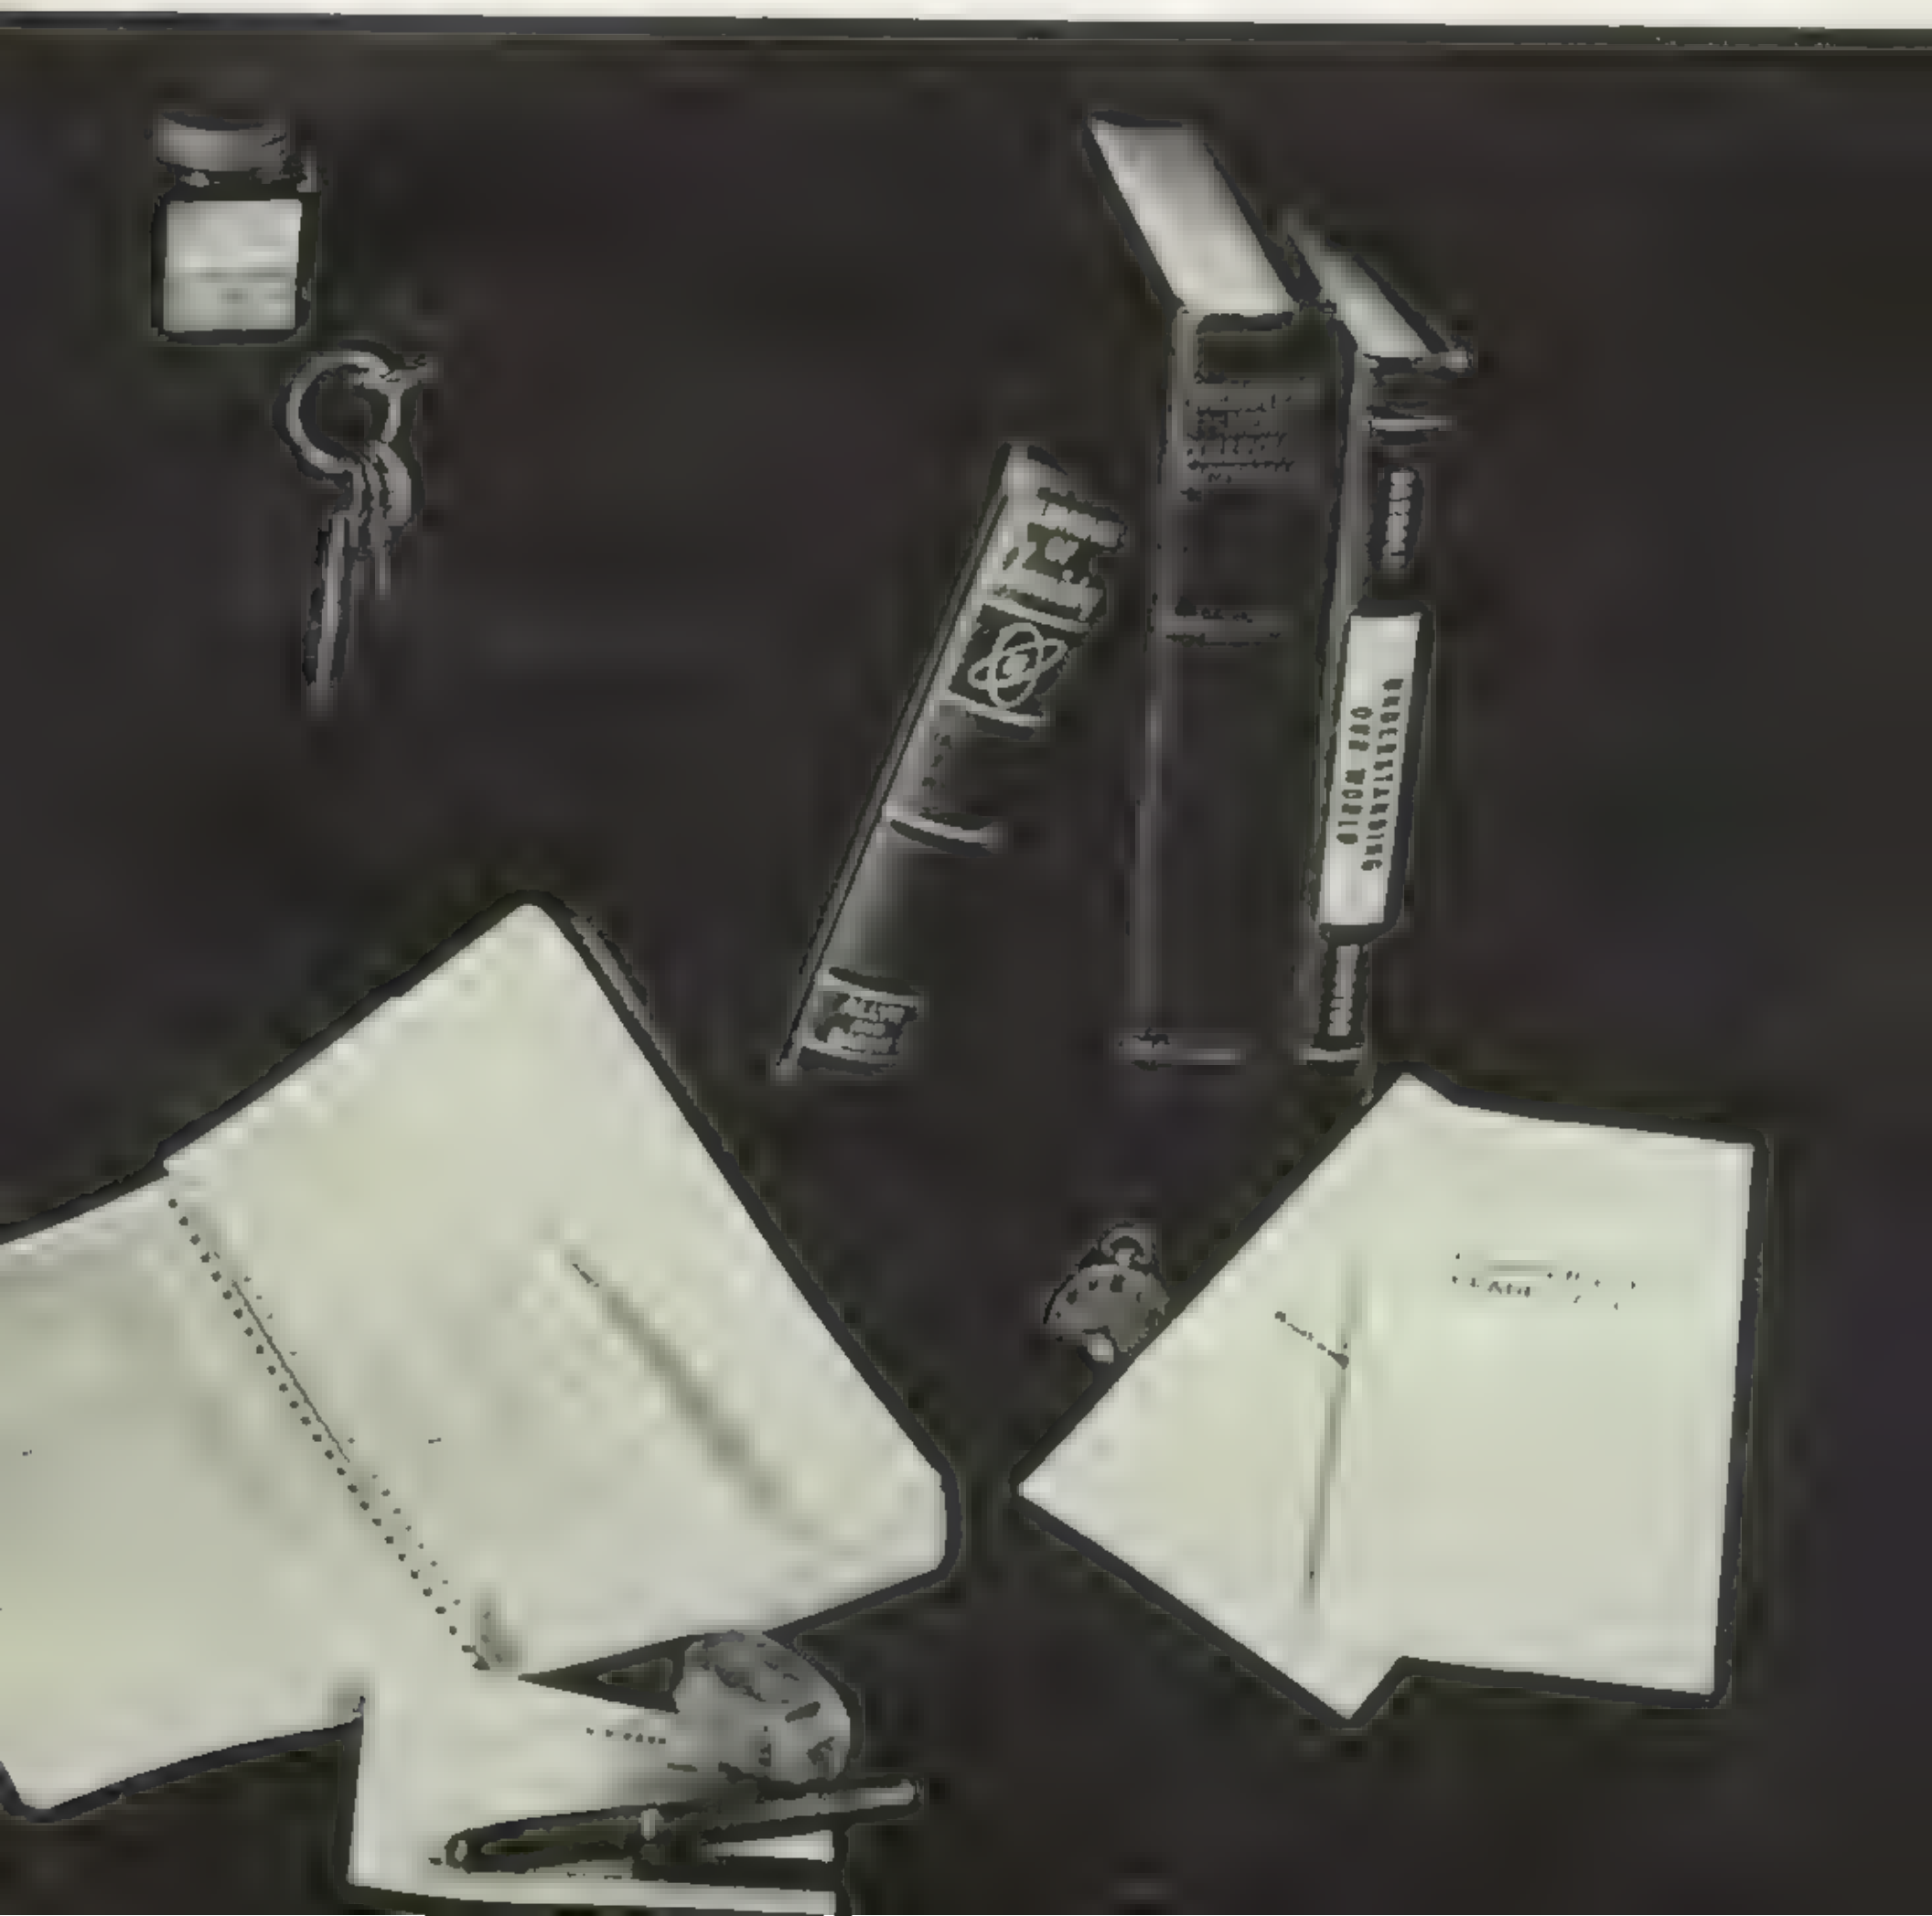

TO THE STUDENTS of Southwestern Central School now serving in the Armed Forces of the United States, we proudly dedicate this 1953 "Centralian." Although we often take our freedom for granted, we realize, expecially now, that this is a great country in which we live, and we are proud of those who are fighting to protect it. Our prayers for their safety and speedy return follow them wherever they may go, and we want them to know that their unselfish and faithful contributions to this struggle to make the world free are greatly appreciated.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Seated: Mrs. Hough, Mr. Davis, Mr. Kearney, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Carlson, Mrs. Farnsworth, clerk, Mrs. Strangin. Standing: Mr. Somer, Mr. Myregard, Mr. Nutt.

Education at Southwestern Central has really become big business. If one considers big business as something involving a great deal of hard work and a great deal of money, this is certainly true. It is, therefore, fitting, that these executives of this business venture be public spirited citizens who accept their obligations knowing full well that the hours will be long and the only reward their satisfaction that theirs is a job well done.

This year's board is presided over by the following officers: Mr. Harvey Carlson, president, Mr. Vern Johnson, vice president, with Mr. Walter Davis, Jr., Mr. Kenneth Somer, Mr. James Kearney, Mr. Frank Nutt, Mrs. Lois Hough, Mr. Sheldon Myregard, and Mrs. Mary Strangin as associate members. Other people who are hired by the board and work in close relationship with them on matters pertaining to the maintenance of the school system are the clerk, Mrs. Margaret Farnsworth, the treasurer, Mrs. Florence Gotts, the school physician, Dr. Calvin Torrance, the herd custodian, Mr. Marquis Levine, the school tax collector, Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, and the principals, Mr. Howard Rood, Supervising Principal, Mr.

Fulton McKay, Assistant Supervising Principal, and Mr. Chris Sweatnngen, High School Principal.

The board itself is divided into seven main committees to supervise the work of those whom they hire. The Finance Committee is headed by Mr. James Kearney. Building and Grounds Committee Chairman is Mr. Vern Johnson. Teachers, Music and Visitation Committee Chairman is Mrs. Mary Strangin. Transportation Committee is headed by Mr. Walter Davis, Jr.

The beautiful new major senior high school building being built under the supervision of the board is rapidly nearing completion and promises to be one of the show places of this region. Every minute detail of this vast project must be carefully checked by the board and its staff to insure the maximum value for the taxpayers dollar. Through the combined efforts of the committees and the other board members and the staff an excellent job is being done. Because these people are public spirited and have a deep interest in the children of the community they are putting forth every effort to make our school system not only a show place but a system noted for its high educational standards.

Secures Successors

Front row Mrs. Holmlund, Mrs. Kistler, Mrs. Peck, Miss Falkenberg
 Second row Mrs. Hardy, Miss Helphinstine, Miss Hildale, Mrs. Edwards
 Third row Mr. Hardy, Mr. Weeks, Mr. Domst

September, 1952 saw eleven new faces among Southwestern's faculty when school opened. Howard Domst replaced Helen McIntyre in one of Celoron's sixth grades when she transferred to the Busti Branch School. Ruby Edwards replaced Charlotte Schrader in one of Lakewood's fifth grades when she left to assume a new position. Elli Falkenberg replaced Beatrice Greenwald in another Lakewood sixth when she left to be married. Eugene Hardy took the place of Walter Miller teaching Celoron high school science when Mr. Miller retired. His wife, Margaret Hardy, replaced Peggy Ann Reichel in Celoron grade art when Miss Reichel left to try matrimony. Pauline Helphinstine took the place of Adalee Tack, girls' physical education director at Celoron, who likewise left to be married. Evelyn Hildale took over for Marabelle Turner, at her marriage. Mrs. Turner had been teaching primary grades at Palmer's Corner school. Dorothy Holmlund set up teaching in an extra kindergarten in Lakewood. Three other new teachers at Lakewood were Mary Kistler replacing John Ruane in high school English, Frances Weeks replacing Martha Rockman in Commerce and Virginia Peck taking over for Virginia Hall in the art department.

These teachers come to us with varied backgrounds ranging from military service to long periods of experience in the educational field. All are well qualified, conscientious, professional people who are a welcome addition to our already fine faculty. It is to be regretted that some of them have decided not to remain at Southwestern for another year. Some of those leaving intend to return to school to obtain Masters degrees to still further insure their usefulness to their profession.

MRS. ELADOR CARLSON
Celoron office secretary

Schoolmasters' Stand-bys

Among those who ably assist the students in Celoron Mrs. Elador Carlson ranks high. One can always find her working diligently in the office. Among her many tasks are training girls from the secretarial practice classes in actual office experience, typing for many teachers, helping club treasurers to keep their accounts straight, and acting as school receptionist as well as her regular duties as office secretary to Mr. Fulton McKay. Her winning personality and willingness to help have given the students a never-to-be-forgotten memory of her.

Mrs. Madeline Swanson, the lady in the office has many tasks "outside the line of duty."

Making out passes, keeping students' files, typing, mimeographing, lending lunch money and answering the telephone are just a few of the duties of this busy secretary, who, in spite of them all this, has time to give advice and help to all those who ask.

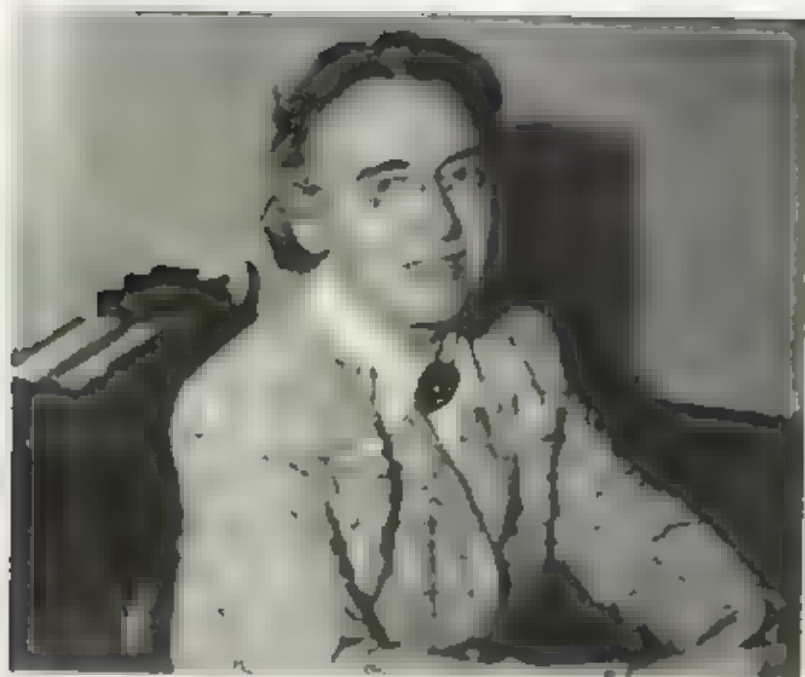

Mrs. Swanson was graduated from Bryant Stratton Business College in Buffalo, and to the faculty and students of Lakewood school is an example of the perfect secretary.

Successful Secretaries

Mrs. JOHN MILLER
Mr. Rood's secretary

Mrs. John Miller, whose pleasant voice is heard over the telephone by anyone calling the Lakewood school, is Mr. Rood's secretary. She is a new recruit to the ranks of those who work hard to keep Southwestern Central School running efficiently.

In addition to her duties at school, Mrs. Miller also manages her home for her husband and daughter, Cynthia. Cynthia is a junior at Lakewood branch.

Serve Splendidly

"DOSS" JOHNSON
director of adult education and recreation

Mr. Harold Johnson, better known as "Doss", is the adult education instructor at Southwestern Central. Through his efforts the following subjects have been introduced to evening classes: typing, pastel drawing, crafts, weaving, sewing, shop, and driver training. This year there is also a series of lectures on foreign affairs.

"Doss" attended Fredonia State Teachers College and is in charge of playgrounds at Lakewood and Celoron during the summer months. He is the friend of all the students from the kindergarten to the senior class and is respected by all those with whom he comes in contact.

Celoron drivers and custodians are not camera-shy. Every attempt to get them to the photographer or the photographer to them came in vain. The very efficient staff there is made up of Mr. Bachelor, Mr. Brevoort, and Mr. Strickland. Celoron had the misfortune to lose one of her driver-custodians during the year. Leo LaQuay is still sadly missed by the many youngsters on whom he lavished such thoughtful care.

Celoron Seniors' Journalism

Senior Stars Stage Success

The senior play reading committee decided it was time for a change. Two years in succession the seniors had presented "big family" comedies, so this year's committee chose something different. The High School Mystery, by Robert St. Clair, and under the able guidance of their director, Miss Lopus, made it a huge success.

The play was presented by the combined Senior classes of Southwestern Central on November thirteenth and fourteenth at the Lakewood High School by special arrangement with the Northwestern Press of Minneapolis.

The play was a sort of "repeat performance" having been produced by the senior class at Celoron about ten years ago.

Being unusual, the play necessitated split-second timing of every committee as well as the cast. This looked like an insurmountable task when we suddenly realized we had less than three weeks to prepare the play for presentation. Because of the determination and cooperation of both the cast and the director, however, the two performances were given with great ease and the play was pronounced a great success.

The action involved a play within a play and proved an apt way to keep the audience guessing. Julie Lawson, as the jittery maid kept the audience laughing, and her good sense of comedy relieved many otherwise tense moments. Dennis Anderson, as Herbert Mason, the father, and Anna Lilja as the long lost aunt portrayed well an erie pair to be caring for lovely Laura played by Kathy Danielson. Milton Faulkner and Dick Wigley as Victor and Earl, respectfully, added to the tenseness and suspense, to say nothing of the silent but scarey roles played alternately by Clarence Nero and Paul Evinczik as the wandering maniac. Those whose parts called for them to be in the play "outside" the mystery (who, incidentally, were knee-deep in a mystery of their own) were Mary Lou Moore as the efficient director of the play within a play, Jonolyn Stevens, as her helpful but easily frightened assistant, Gary Young, as the perfect stage hand, Betty Starkweather, who made a most convincing irate mother who sought to stop the whole show because her daughter was slighted, Ray Warner, as Jack Howard, the author of the play, who got more drama than he bargained for, and last, but certainly not least, Jerry Scorce, who stole the last scene as the sheriff who was afraid of his own shadow.

The real rough and tumble fight between Milt, and Dick, which often threatened to break up the antique furniture, and the chase of the maniac through the audience were high spots of the action heightened by the excellent handling of the light cues by Tom Swearingen.

Every committee, from the play readers to the candy committee were so efficient that they left nothing to be desired.

The scene on next page shows the hall of the Lakewood High School a few days before the annual Senior play. The unique advertising feature representing a theater marque was the work of a group of students under the direction of Mrs. Edith Helgren, art supervisor. Mrs. Helgren, too, directed the work on the simple but effective set which is shown below. The picture, however, does not do justice to the soft blue-greens and grays and the fine paneling which the stage committee worked so hard to produce, and which were so effective in setting the chill, almost forbidding atmosphere for the first act. The dominant furnishing was a bookcase which swung around to reveal an opening in the wall around which many of the exciting moments of the play centered. The bookcase was the work of Mr. Fedrico and some of the boys. Both Mrs. Helgren and Mr. Fedrico have generously helped the seniors ever since we began having plays by the combined classes. Another faculty member whom we feel should be given special thanks is Mr. Weiss who has taken all the play pictures, both for the yearbook and the lobby posters for three years. The lobby pictures, programs and clippings are being preserved in a beautiful scrapbook, the unusual wooden cover of which was designed and constructed by Mr. Rose, another faculty member who has helped the seniors for years.

This year's clever programs were designed by Philip Ellsworth with many a senior lending a hand to paint each cover by hand. Artists who did the stage scenery include Judy Garrison, Janice Offhaus, Barbara Puls, Barbara Pringle, Janet Burk, Nancy Anderson, Tom Swearingen, John Welshofer, Evelyn Peterson, Patricia Fagan, Jillson Kruger, Mary Lou Moore, Kathleen Danielson, Marilyn Clark, Martha Nederberg, Dick Wigley, Ray Warner and Jerry Scorce. We mention them all for many did not get in the committee picture. The hardworking ticket committee who did not all get in the picture were Pauline Evinczik, Joyce Anderson, Paul Evinczik, Jackie Thomas and Jorolyn Stevens. The candy committee, also left out, but deserving of note, were Norma Adams, Janice McIntyre, Katherine Reynolds, Joyce LaQuay, Bruce Gokey, Jack Bailey, Kay Griffin, Martha Nederberg, Nina Nelson and Linnea Carlson.

Salute and Swan-song

*Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears
Look who's graduating after all these years!*

The door to the kindergarten opened slowly as each child fearfully, but expectantly, ventured into this new experience. Some of us were silent others were noisy to cover our apprehension. This was the first day the class of 1953 spent in school. Thirteen years ago! Seems like a long time? It is, and yet it is all too short.

Kindergarten was filled with enjoyment as we learned new games, songs, and art work. One of our most startling discoveries was the fact that our world extended beyond our neighbor's fence or yard. Then our big day came Kindergarten graduation! It was evident by the red look of every child that each mother had scrubbed and polished until we shone. How proud we were as we went forward to receive our diplomas.

When fall came and it was again time for school, a new fear faced some of us. However, as our teachers welcomed us into first grade—some of us at Celoron or Glidden, and some of us at Lakewood—we knew that the happiest days of our life had begun.

First, second, third, fourth grades passed. To many it seemed that our heads would never hold all the knowledge with which our teachers sought to fill them. Reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling, social studies and science made up our daily schedule. On special occasions we went to the gymnasium for assemblies, other times we played there. On certain days the music and art teachers came and every week the librarian came, too.

Fifth and sixth grades came and went. Many new faces appeared in our classes throughout these years, and sometimes old friends moved away.

The next year, seventh grade, it seemed to the Celoron students that they were back where they started from across the hall from their old kindergarten room, but we found that we were faced with an entirely new experience! In both schools we found that junior high school meant that each subject was taught by a different teacher. We were given homework and study halls in which to do it.

Opportunities to join more clubs and see more assemblies were enjoyed by all.

In Celoron the eighth grade was marked by tedious preparation for preliminary regents. Each struggled and when we received our final grades some were disappointed while others thought hopefully of high school.

The first year of high school found most of the class running around like chickens with their heads off. In ninth grade we made our schedules for our next three years work. In the tenth grade after we had settled down somewhat, we ventured into these courses and began preparation for our life's work. Sports played a large part in our sophomore year, with the boys going in for football, basketball, and baseball, while the girls practiced cheering and cheerleading.

Regents again came for some of us in the junior year. To the Lakewood branch students this was a new experience. This was also an exciting and completely filled year with the high spots being proms, classings, plays, operetta, the penny supper, and of course, intensive study. All of this made us wonder why the days were not made six hours longer. Each one anticipated the grand climax of our school years as we waited for twelfth grade and the thrill of being a SENIOR.

All the activities of the preceding years combined to fill our time our last year. The athletics, operetta, proms, plays, and work on the newspapers and the Centralian were only a few of the occupations we found. Besides these there were activities exclusive to the senior class, senior play, class night, senior day, Baccalaureate, and to top it all off, Commencement. All these wonderful things, which will always be remembered, make it difficult to leave this school where so many happy days have been spent.

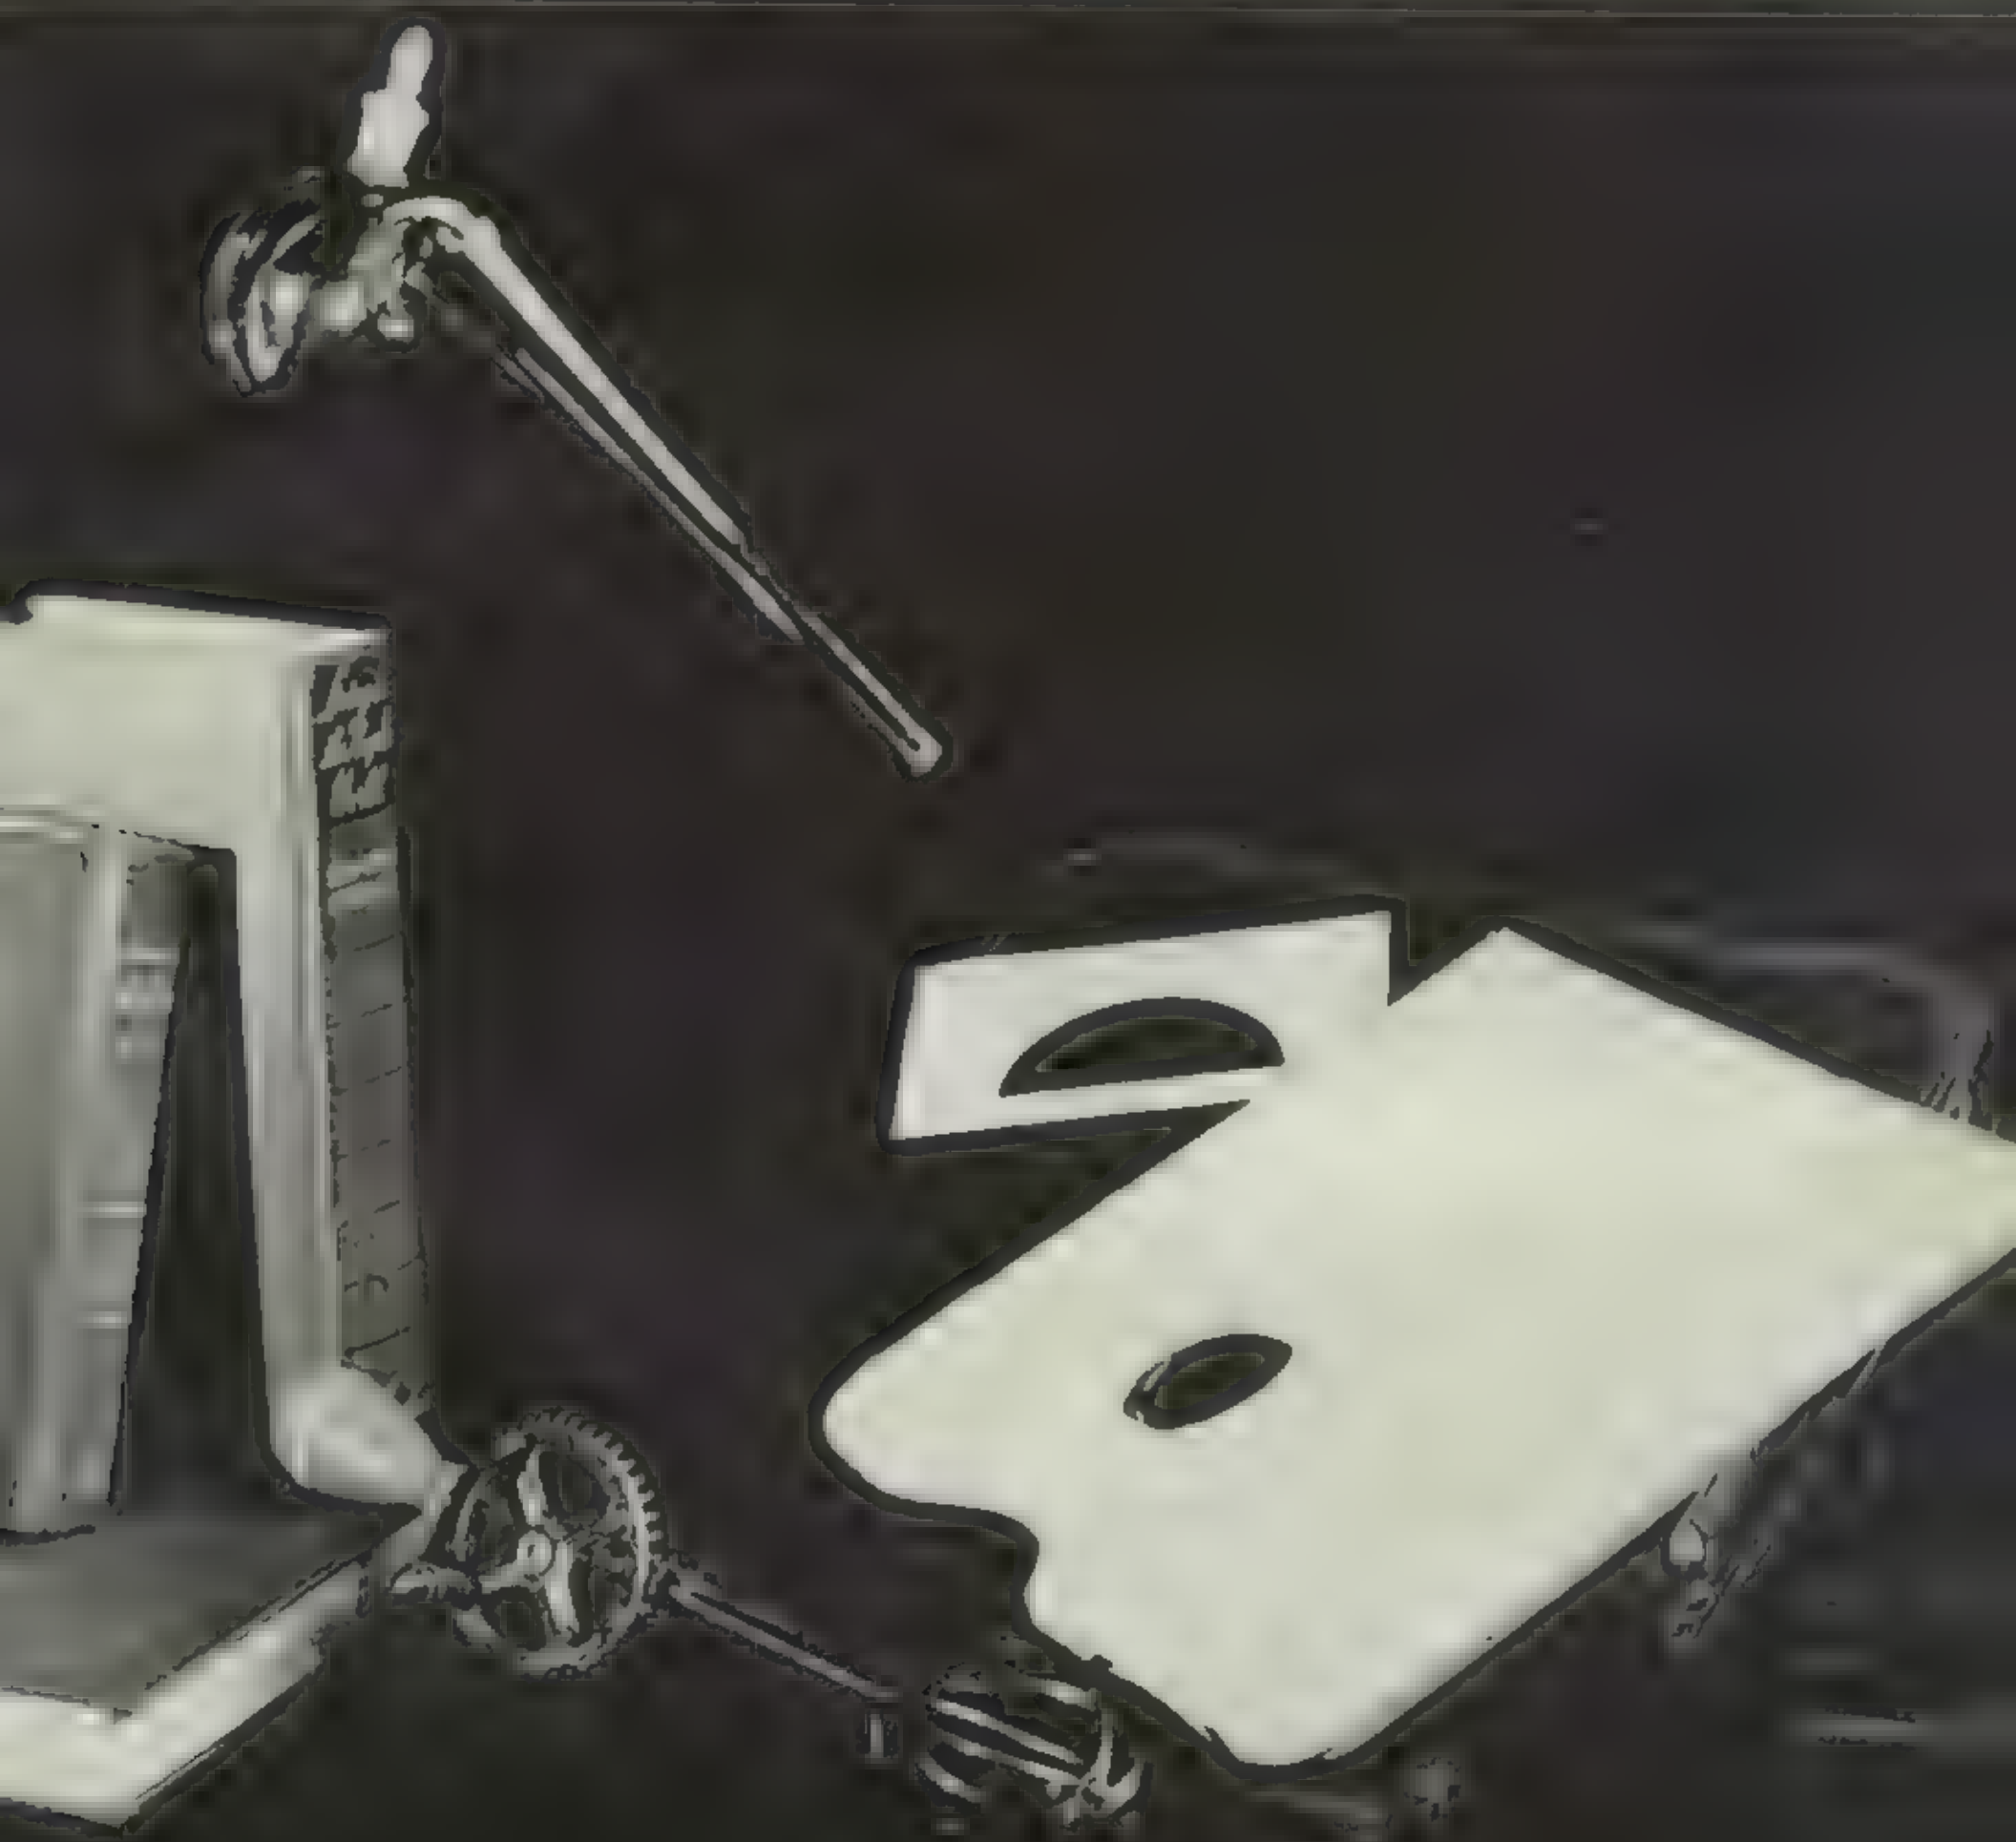

As the door closes behind us we leave with some of the same emotions we had when we started school. We are fearful and yet expectant. Some of us will go on to college, others will go in to the business world. None will ever forget those wonderful years—our years at Southwestern.

Second to Seniors

Upon returning to school in September the Junior Class of Celoron was greeted by a new homeroom teacher, Mr. Hardy. Elections early in the year again put us under the leadership of Jere Mead assisted by Frank Mallare. Joan Otten took over as treasurer and Elaine Anderson as secretary. To represent us in Student Council we elected Madelyn Stranigan and Sherwood Vincent. We chose Shirley Edgren for Assembly Committee.

October 22 marked the date of the annual Penny Supper. The whole class enjoyed working for this event which boosted our funds. We were greatly aided both by our class advisors and our mothers whom we favored with corsages.

At a joint meeting with the Lakewood Juniors it was decided to change the shape of the top of our class rings to square. The crest will remain the same.

We are proud of Frank Mallare, Ronald Renaldo, Marionie Starkweather, Frank Workens, Anton Neubauer, Bennie Stevens, and Jere Mead for their participation in Debate Club.

In January Duncan Carlson was honored by the Jamestown International Rotary Club.

We sponsored a dance in return for the one given us by the Lakewood Juniors. In February the Seniors entertained the Juniors with a dance at Lakewood school. This is their way of thanking us for the Spring Prom we will have in their honor.

The Junior Class of Lakewood opened shop on September 12 with its first class meeting. Herbert Proctor was elected president, with Rodney Sparling as his assistant. Barbara Thompson was chosen secretary and Doris Larson, treasurer. To represent the Juniors on Student Council we chose Mary Lou Hazzard and Sam Gerace, while Prudence Mitchell and John Scorse were our choice for the Centralian staff. Our class reporter is Marilyn Peterson, with Shirley Rapp as Girls' Sports Reporter and David Truax as Boys' Sports Reporter.

We had a very successful year both financially and socially under the capable supervision of Mrs. Jones and Mr. Windott.

The Juniors' big project for the year was the comedy, January Thaw, given on March 13. The play was directed by Mrs. Kistler and was greatly enjoyed by the capacity crowd attending. The play concerned the hilarious adventures of the Gages when they purchased and remodeled an old farmhouse only to find they had inherited the eccentric family, too.

On February 14 we were guests of the Seniors at a Valentine Ball given at Lakewood.

We are planning, with the Celoron Juniors, a prom in June at which we shall be hosts to the Seniors.

We sincerely hope that when we enter the Senior homeroom next year we shall be able to uphold the high standards set by this year's Senior Class and the previous classes.

Sophomores Succeed

The gavel fell and the Lakewood Sophomore Class, the "Class of '55", swung smoothly into action with the election of an efficient staff of class officers. For president we chose Peter Peterson, with another Peterson, Duane, to take over in his absence. Marcu Milton was our choice for secretary, and Leland Sperry got the most votes for treasurer. Perhaps anticipating an unusually profitable year financially we even elected Barbara Hitchcock assistant treasurer. For Student Council our choices were Janet Manhart and Robert Bergstrom, and when it came to representatives for the Centralian staff, we chose Diane Anderson and Richard Johnson. Our sports reporters were Diana Rood and Walter Carlson. The job of reporting the class activities fell to Sally Parsons.

The Sophomore assembly was presented under the direction of Janet Manhart, chairman of the Sophomore Assembly Committee.

The Sophomores held a class party in April which was enthusiastically received and proved to be one of the high spots of the year for us.

During the year a number of Sophomores represented us ably in Debate, Dance and S Clubs chorus, band, intramurals and J.V. sports.

The Sophomore Class wishes to express its gratitude to our class sponsors, Mrs. Kistler and Mr. Habich, for the help, consideration, and above all, the patience, they have given us in the past year.

The Celoron Sophomore Class once again elected capable James Miller president to guide us through another year. Gary Johnson assisted him while efficient Marlene Paquin carefully took the minutes. Howard Peters was chosen to take care of our finances. Our two representatives, John Ford and Ross Gardner took an active part on the Student Council.

The Sophomores continued to live up to their reputation for being an energetic, talented class by their activity in many curricular and extra-curricular fields. Many members of the class took a great interest in band, chorus, dramatics and Junior Varsity basketball.

The class held a dance after the Jamestown basketball game. There was a large attendance which helped make it a very successful money raising project as well as affording those present a good time.

Once again the Sophomore Class decorated the auditorium for the Seniors' Baccalaureate service. This has become a time honored tradition and one to which the sophomore class looks forward with great anticipation and back upon with great satisfaction as a high spot of Commencement Week. Parents and students were generous in donating time and floral decorations.

The Class of '55 wishes to express its thanks to our advisors, Miss Jones, Mrs. Watson, and Mr. Miller, who have given so much of their time and effort to aid us through a successful year.

Sturdy Saplings

The Celoron eighth graders of last year have had the thrill of experiencing their first year of high school as Freshmen. Because of various clubs and organizations we have not had the opportunity to hold very many meetings. However, when the occasion arose, Larry Allen conducted the meeting in an orderly manner. When he was absent, Jim Peters officiated. The minutes of the meetings were read by Shervn Hansen, and the financial standings were reported by Wayne Anderson.

Chosen to represent the Freshmen on the Student Council was Sally Gross, and Shervn Hansen was chosen to represent the class as Centralian Staff Representative.

The highlight of the year was the Freshman party which was held with the Likewood Freshmen in the Celoron gym. The party was a great success with about eighty people attending. A bus was sent out to get those who live farthest away so they could attend. The committee which planned this party consisted of the following: Carol Berg, Sally Gross, Wendy Williams, and Shervn Hansen from Celoron, and Priscilla Lane, Marilyn Fagan, Norma Davis, Nels Carlson, Mike Clawson, and Dale Hitchcock from Likewood.

The Freshmen feel they have enjoyed a very successful year and are looking forward to their year as Sophomores with great anticipation. The class has appreciated the help and understanding of its class advisors.

The Likewood Freshman Class held its first class meeting in September. Aware of the fact that we were at last on the threshold of our high school career, we carefully selected officers in whom we had most confidence. When the voting was over Dennis Simmons was found to be our choice for president, John Johnson found himself to be vice president, Gal Marsh, secretary, and Danny Evinczik became treasurer. We decided that Dale Hitchcock and Nancy Hendler were the best choice for representatives on the Centralian staff. Tony LaPlaca and Norma Davis became our Student Council representatives. When it came to reporters we asked Elwyn Penhollow to be the regular reporter, with Gordon Van Every assigned to Boys' Sports and Carolyn Peterson to Girls' Sports.

Friday, January 30, our class and the Celoron Freshmen joined together in the Celoron gym for a Freshman party.

Our biggest money making events were the sale of stationery early in the year, and a Round and Square dance on March 25.

In sports the Freshman football team ended in second place.

Freshman girls who led in cheering were Agnes Anderson, Connie Nelson, Mary Ellen Warner and Norma Davis, substitute.

We would like to thank Doss Johnson for helping to make the Junior High parties a success, too.

Steady Stride

The Lakewood eighth grade found their last year of junior high school a busy one. Early in the year we prepared ourselves for our busy year by electing a good group of officers. Marilyn Peterson was our choice for president with Anne Johnson as vice president. Floyd Overbeck was selected as treasurer and Judy Heald as secretary. Judy North and Joe Scorse were elected as class reporters.

Besides all the work eighth graders always find in their classes which are designed to prepare them for their high school years, we found it was necessary to earn some money. As had become the tradition for eighth graders, we presented a marionette show. This year's show was a very enjoyable one based on the famous story of Tom Sawyer by Mark Twain. Those who attended enjoyed watching the lifelike little actors as they told the well known adventures of one of America's best known boys. A candy sale held at the same time helped swell the amount in our treasury.

At Christmas time we had a party as is usual for eighth graders. We exchanged gifts.

Throughout the year we had six new people join our class. They were four boys, Robert Costlow, Ronald Nelson, David Carlson and Donald Peterson, and two girls, Sandra Nelson and Lucy Ann Limberg.

Various members of our class joined the musical organizations of the school and participated in intramural sports. Many also enjoyed the fun always provided by the junior high parties.

At the beginning of our eighth year of school with Mrs. Dennison and Mrs. Chase as homeroom teachers, we got off to a booming start. We decided to have the homeroom club in two sections this year, each with its own set of officers. In Mrs. Dennison's room Terry Ellis was selected as president with Margaret Logan as his assistant. Ruth Ostrom kept the minutes and Michael Harrison collected the dues.

In Mrs. Chase's room the girls had it more their own way, evidently, for the final slate of officers consisted of Suzanne Johnson, president, Dick Howgard, vice president, Joann Babyak, secretary and Lucille Pollaro, treasurer. These officers all worked hard to make our eighth grade year a pleasant one.

Besides the homeroom clubs, the two groups went together to organize a dance club. This club was exclusively for we eighth graders and proved very enjoyable throughout the year.

At Christmas we had homeroom parties and exchanged gifts.

In eighth grade chorus we have worked hard, and with the help of Mrs. Nelson we hope to combine with the Lakewood eighth grade and the two seventh grades for a concert.

The eighth grades would like to take this opportunity to thank all the wonderful teachers who have helped to "lift" us a grade higher. We appreciate their patience and consideration.

Stepping-stones

In Mrs. Deunk's homeroom club the president, David Till has called the meeting to order. Nancy Boherg, vice president, is sitting beside him. Judy Erickson is reading the minutes of the last meeting. William Greenwood will collect the dues. As soon as the business meeting is over the president will turn the rest of meeting over to the program chairman. They usually meet every other Tuesday.

The Jolly 27, Miss Lopus' homeroom club meet every second Wednesday of the month. Janet Asel, the club president, has called the meeting to order and Roberta Pierce has read the secretary's report. Terry Schroeder is now collecting the dues. Robert Swanson is vice president and Marcia Miller reporter. Janet Asel will soon close the meeting and the program will begin.

Both clubs had Christmas parties on December 18, 1952 during seventh period. No Valentine parties were held because of assembly.

Nancy Boherg was elected as Student Council representative for both seventh grades, and Judy Erickson was elected to represent them on the Centralian.

A large number of seventh graders joined and took an active part in the Junior Dramatic Club while others took part in chorus, band, and intramural sports.

The Lakewood seventh grade class officers are as follows: president, Clint Merley; vice president, Joseph Swearingen; secretary, William Carpenter, treasurer, Brenda Muninger; Student Council representatives, Lynne Hough and Dan Bell, Centralian representatives, Donna Swan and Pat Davis. The class advisors are Mrs. Alberta Ulmer and Mr. Milton Harp.

The seventh grade take an active part in Dance Club. Most of the boys and girls are members and have enjoyed taking part in the dances and parties this year. The seventh grade boys have intramurals seventh period on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The Junior High Chorus put on a concert in May. Most of the seventh graders participated in this concert which was given with the Celoron grades, too. In May also some of the chorus went to Mayville, and on to Chautauqua for the County Concert.

To raise money the seventh grade have again sold pencils. This was a successful money-raising project.

Most of the seventh graders took part in two assembly programs this year, one of which was the Art Class Assembly. The other one was the regular seventh grade assembly which was patterned after the Television program, "What's My Line?", but just to be different we called ours "What's My Name".

The seventh grade have enjoyed their first year of Junior High very much.

"I don't know." This was the standard answer given by the members of the Centralian staff to most of the problems and questions confronting them. If it hadn't been for the assistance and prodding of our capable advisors, Mrs. Burk and Miss Lopus, it is certain the 1953 Centralian would never have reached print!

To begin their education in the fine art of publishing a yearbook, the staff went to the Inter-scholastic Press Association Conference on December 6 at Amherst Central School. The entire staff soaked up much valuable and needed information and came back somewhat better prepared to tackle the job before them. At this conference awards were given for 1952 yearbooks. Our Centralian won a blue ribbon in its division. We also received a certificate later in the year from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association giving us second place honors.

The 1953 Centralian is the result of the work done by the Co-editors, Bonnie McCann and Patricia Fagan; sports editors, Jerry Scorse and Milton Faulkner; photography editors, Janet Burk and Theil Eklund; advertising editors, Dennis Anderson and Ray Warner; business managers, Thomas Swearingen and Theil Eklund; subscription managers, Betty Starkweather and Barbara Puls; art editors, Judy Garrison, Martha Nedreberg, and Philip Elsworth; typists, Pauline Evinczak, Nina Nelson, Norma Adams, Elizabeth Siggins and Joyce Anderson.

Submit Supplement

No one, except those who have worked on a publication such as the Centralian, appreciate the work involved in turning out a completed copy. Each year the staff must deliberate on dozens of items ranging from the choice of color, design and texture of the cover material to the size and slant of the print on any given page. A whole new vocabulary of "printers words" must be learned. As our co-editors, Pat and Bonnie, found when they accompanied the two advisors to Pittsburgh last fall to attend a meeting sponsored by our engravers. There they were shown diagrams for laying out pages, suggestions for varying the type and spacing and sample books from other schools.

Making a yearbook of which we can be proud has become a tremendous business involving a number of thousand dollars. Each staff member has a responsible share in the undertaking which may be anything from arranging and taking photographs to proofreading copy, to typing, or doing the "leg work" involved in finding advertisers. In spite of the work it entails, the making of a yearbook is perhaps one of the most satisfying accomplishment of the Senior Class.

Student Supervisors

The Student Council at Lakewood had its first meeting in October. At that meeting we elected the following officers: president, Sam Gerace, vice president, Tom Swearingen, treasurer, Kathy Danielson, and secretary, Norma Davis. Monitors were given their positions in the hall and the rules of the school were read to them. The Student Council had charge of the presidential election in school this year. The representatives of each room registered the students so they could vote. Another activity the Student Council had charge of was Bundle Day."

The grade school and junior high were given notices about bringing bundles of outgrown clothes and shoes to school. Jerry Scorse spoke over the public address system each morning about bringing these bundles. On February 5 these bundles were packed and shortly afterwards were sent to Europe. Rules of punishment were changed by the Student Council to make them more severe. The rules are to be enforced more strictly. The Student Council appreciates the co-operation of the students in all we have accomplished this year.

Supplemental Supervision

The Student Council at Celoron was founded for the purpose of bringing the problems of the students to the faculty. The representatives this year are Grace Peterson and Richard Plank, seniors; Madelyn Stranigan and Sherwood Vincent, juniors; John Ford and Ross Gardner, sophomores; Sally Gross, freshman; Roger Ball, eighth grade, and Nancy Bohberg, seventh grade. One of the most active projects of the council this year was the monitor system to help the traffic problem in the upper hall. Monitors were allowed to leave class before the bell rang so that they could reach their stations. Our Student Council co-operated in the clothing drive held in February. So much clothing was received that it was very difficult to find containers in which to pack it. Each morning during the drive a group of girls sang clever original songs over the public address system to remind students to bring their contributions. The Student Council appreciates the help given them by Mr. Miller, who acted as their faculty sponsor this year. They also appreciate the co-operation of Mr. McKay, the other teachers, and the students.

STUDENT COUNCIL: Grace Peterson, Richard Plank, Madelyn Stranigan, John Ford, Ross Gardner, Mr. Miller, Nancy Bohberg, Sally Gross, Sherwood Vincent.

To create a stimulus for scholarship, to encourage students to render service to the school and to the community, to encourage an extension of education and to cause students to evaluate themselves are the aims of the National Honor Society.

All new members are chosen from the four dimensions of life—scholarship, leadership, character and ability. They are elected by the combined votes of the faculty and must continue to maintain an outstanding scholastic average to remain in the society.

The National Honor Society represents the fundamental objective for which our schools are instituted and gives recognition to those who have attained most nearly the desired ends. No honor conferred by the school exceeds that of this society.

New members of the Alpha Chapter are Pat Fagan, Jerry Scorse, Stanley Weisbrod, Pauline Evinczak, Ray Warner, Priscilla Bailey, Marcia Anderson and Herbert Proctor.

Those dropped from the Alpha Omega Chapter were Bonnie McCann, Anne Lamberson, Gladys Johnson, Grace Peterson, Marjorie Starkweather and Jere Mead.

Spring Success

The National Thespians Society is a fraternal organization composed of those students who have done sufficient theatrical work to earn ten credits. Gold stars are given to signify each additional ten credits of work. Many of our members have earned stars. Credits may be earned by theatrical work other than acting. Many members have specialized in make-up, scenery, directing and bookholding.

Other years our organization in Celoron has been expanded enough to enable us to become an active group. The first public appearance of troop 866 was the presentation of a one act play, The City Slicker and Our Nell, at the Fredonia Dramatic Festival April 26. The cast, directed by the group sponsor, Mrs. Watson, included, Anna Lilja, Joan Johnson, Julie Lawson, Madelyn Stranigan, Bonnie McCann, Richard Harrison, Philip Ellsworth, Anton Neubauer, and Dennis Anderson.

Present members and officers of troop 866 are: president, Dick Harrison, secretary, Joan Johnson, members, Dennis Anderson, Joyce Anderson, Philip Ellsworth, Milton Faulkner, Carole Hinderer, Anna Lilja, Julie Lawson, Anton Neubauer, Dick Plank, Betty Starkweather, Madelyn Stranigan, Bonnie McCann, and Grace Peterson.

A number of the Thespians were in the cast of this year's senior play, or on the production staff. A number also participated in the Masquerader's annual three-act play.

Sea Saga

The Lowland Sea was perhaps the most ambitious operetta ever presented by the Southwestern chorus. Sung from an original score, the composition is both modern and unusual. The music is the work of Alec Wilder and the libretto is by Arnold Sundgaard. The story concerns Johnny Dee, sung by Peter Rushworth, who sails away from Scarlettown aboard the Scarlet Sail, bound for Singapore, leaving lovely Dorie Davis, played by Carole Hinderer. When the ship is reported lost at sea with all hands aboard, Dorie consents to marry Nathaniel Hazzard and care for his three motherless youngsters. But fate has played a cruel trick, for Johnny had failed to make the sailing because at the last moment he had fallen ill of malaria. Johnny, taking the first ship he can find bound for Scarlettown, finds Dorie married, and again takes ship for Singapore. The sadness of the story was relieved here and there by some tuneful sea-chanties and colorful folk-tunes.

The musical drama was played against a back-drop showing a quiet bay surrounded by a typical fishing village. On the left, Dorie's snug white clap-boarded cottage with its green shutters, its porch and rocking chair, was an excellent foil for the weather-beaten brown shingled fish house on the right. The stage setting was again a tribute to the artistry of Mrs. Helgren and her art classes. The difficult score was accompanied with brilliant success on the two grand pianos by Gladys Johnson and Nancy Hendler. The entire production was directed by Mrs. Nelson. Every member of the 78 member chorus participated, the girls as townswomen, the boys as sailors and fishermen. Other solo parts were sung by Roger Lindquist as Captain Jesse, and Faith Gates, Linda Julin and Pat Davis, as the three Hazzard children. Speaking parts were read by Anne Lamberon, Anton Neubauer, and Carl LaMarca, who also did a clever original dance

Story Sleuths

This year the junior and senior classes combined their efforts to form a newspaper club. Election of officers was held at our first meeting and after due consideration the following were chosen: Editor in Chief, Jerry Scorse; Sports Editors, Dick W. and Frank O.; Secretary, Edith K.; Treasurer, Art L.; Editor, Webster Busby; Managing Editor, Jerry Peterson; Moderator, Edith K. Mr. Webster acted as faculty advisor. Immediately thereafter, the wheels began to roll. After a few days it was decided to print the paper for the upper class.

News from various fraternities and sororities were also published. On January 26 the "Trojan Star" made its first appearance and was printed monthly thereafter.

Many new projects were entered into this year's paper. Among them were the events of our birthday club, student poll, personality quiz, and various feature views. Letters were sent to sister high schools and agreements were made to exchange papers.

The Newspaper Club was a new project this year. We consider it to be a great success and sincerely hope it will be continued in future year.

"One for all and all for one" might be the motto of our two news magazines in this year of 1952-1953.

Working on the news magazines gives students good experience, not only in writing but in working together toward a common goal.

This year has been marked by a high standard of cooperation and fellowship in both staffs, making the job of putting out the magazine most enjoyable. Both magazines are typed and distributed by high school boys and girls. The Crystalet stemmed from the Crystal when the need was felt for a new magazine for the grade school and kindergarten. Both magazines have had a very successful year. The staff hopes the students have enjoyed the magazines to the same extent that we have enjoyed putting them together.

The Crystal Staff consists of editor-Norma A. [unclear], business manager—Elsie Anderson, new editor—Joyce LaQuay, Pat Babyak, Joan Johnson, and Audrey Warner, feature editors—Anita Flood, Delores Ellis, and Dick Mudge, art editor—Dick Harrison, Grace Peterson, sports—Clarence Nero and Madevon Stranigan. Production editor is Elaine Anderson, Georgia Cardy, mimeographing—Karin Edgren, circulation manager—Carolyn Jackson, Loy Ann Seager, and Elizabeth Siggins.

The Crystalet Staff has as its editor Patsy Hyde with Elsie Fuscus, Betty Huber, Cecile Rabin, Lucy Siggins and Marilyn Gorman as feature editors. Art editors are Janice McIntyre, Nancy Gibbs, and Eleanor Bauer. Business manager is Bette Bernhard, production is Sonja Johnson, and Desire Johnson and circulation Carolee Pratt, and Marv Martinson.

Stage-struck

The members of the Masqueraders have enjoyed a very successful year. Election at the first meeting resulted in Richard Harrison, president, Bonnie McCann, vice president, Madelyn Strangin, secretary, and Milton Faulkner, treasurer.

Our first event of the year was a one act play, The City Slicker and Our Nell, given for assemblies at Celoron and Lakewood.

A two-act musical, Hearts and Gowns, was presented for the public March 20. The scene of this play was an ultra-modern dress shop, and the set was one of the most beautiful and unusual we have ever used. A profusion of potted azalias against a startling pink background, relieved only by a simple sky-blue drape was accomplished with the help of Mrs. Hardy. White branches decked with metallic butterflies set off the pink background.

The play was, as usual, directed by Mrs. Watson, who also played the piano accompaniment for the vocal numbers.

A number of Masqueraders were tapped for Thespians this year.

A large delegation of Masqueraders attended the Fredonia Dramatic Festival April 24 and 25.

Stellar Success

First the big storm, then the "January Thaw", then spring: This was the theme of the Junior play, which was under the expert direction of Mrs. Kistler. The play chosen this year was an ambitious one since the class wanted to do something different. Not only was it different, but difficult. The roles, for the most part, were of older characters, and for sixteen year olds, a challenge, and a tough proposition.

But . . . it was a smash hit. Mary Lou Hazzard turned in a wonderful performance as did Lora Anderson and Richard Levine. John Boardman stole the show as a man of "eighty-six or maybe eighty-eight." The love interest was played by Barbara Thompson and David Truax. Priscilla Bailey and Rodney Sparling made an acceptable and realistic middle-aged couple who lived in a house originally owned by the Rockwoods. This typical farmer and his wife were played by John Romer and Cynthia Miller. Others included in the cast were Marilyn Peterson, Floyd Hedlund and Peter Jones.

The action took place in an early American farm house with pine paneling, maple furniture and lamps made of coffee grinders, churns and spice boxes. The class is indebted to Mr. Proctor who aided us with the set.

On March 13 the auditorium was filled to its full capacity with fond friends and relatives of the cast. It was hard work for many weeks, but everyone agreed—loads of fun.

Every Monday the Teen-Age Talent Club held a meeting in room 8 under the supervision and guidance of Miss Pauline Lopus. Presiding over the business meeting was our president, Gary Johnson, and when the occasion arose, vice president Howard Peters did the honors. Our secretary, Suzanne Bugbee read the minutes of the preceding meeting, and treasurer Loy Seager gave the latest reports on our financial balance.

Our first theatrical venture for the year was a performance of the American folk story Rip Van Winkle, produced for a Swedish lodge in James town. We were proud to present the first play in English which this lodge has sponsored in over 50 years. At a later date we repeated the play in assembly here in school for the first eight grades Cynthia Carlson was student director.

After Rip Van Winkle, we divided into three groups and worked on three one act plays under the direction of three student directors.

On March 6 we held the fourth annual Farmers Formal, the traditional Teen-Age Talent Club dance. This year's affair proved to be one of the most successful and enjoyable ever held by the group.

Scene-stealers

The Junior Dramatic Club under the successful guidance of Mrs. Marjorie Deunk elected officers at an organization meeting in September. The following officers were elected: President, Margaret Logan; Vice President, Diane Anderson; Secretary, Richard Howgard; Treasurer, Janis Hanson.

We had a very busy and successful year. In February, we presented the play, "Wildcat Willie Gets Brain Fever" in an assembly program. The characters were: Willie Terry Ellis, Gladys Irene Cross, Mrs. Wilkins-Judy Erickson, Joe Richard Howgard, Kathie-Margaret Logan, Vernon-Lawrence Richards, Celia-Sharon Gourlay, and Miss Bond-Nancy Boherg.

Selling Christmas cards was our main project this year. We built up the treasury. With a portion of the proceeds, we bought a radio for the use of The Junior Dramatic Club and the junior high school.

We hope to end our very pleasant and successful year with a party or picnic.

Sovereign Splendor

For the second time in several years the traditional May Day festival of Lakewood Branch was held out of doors. The day was cloudy, but the rains held until the festival was over.

The king, Jack Wigley, was escorted to the throne by the Master of Ceremonies, Gerald Clark. The juniors then came bearing floral arches, under which the senior couples passed followed by the crown and footstool bearers, the little flower girls, and class presidents who took their places on either side of the king.

The crowd became very quiet as the Maid of Honor, Mary Ann Hendler, followed by the queen, Ann Burstrom, passed through the arches. The queen was assisted to the throne by the king. The Maid of Honor was escorted to the platform by the Master of Ceremonies.

John Olson presented the crown to the king who placed it on the queen's head. Dick Wigley, junior president, presented the footstool, John Boardman, sophomore president, presented the queen's bouquet, and Walter Carlson, freshman president, the Maid of Honor's bouquet.

After the presentation of the gifts the king and queen were entertained by a Maypole Dance put on by the second and third grades, and dances by the juniors, fourth and fifth grades. There were also musical selections presented by the grade school chorus.

The chorus, with Ellowyn Penhollow, soloist, sing Gesu Bambino at the Christmas Concert

Sweet Symphonies

Our S.W.C.S. Chorus began its third year hoping to make it a most successful year under the direction of Mrs. Edna Nelson.

The officers of the Lakewood Branch are: president, Dick Wigley; vice president, Mary Lou Moore; secretary, Kathleen Danielson; treasurer, Peter Peterson; librarians, Marilyn Peterson and Marilyn Fagan; robe custodians, Stanley Weisbrod and Mary Ellen Walcott. In Celoron the Celoron Branch officers are: president, Anne Lamberson; vice president, Alfred Parker; secretary, Gladys Johnson; treasurer, Elaine Lamberson; Librarians, Joyce LiQuay and Judy Love; robe custodians, Dennis Anderson and Anton Neubauer.

The chorus gave its first concert on November 21, 1952. The stage looked especially nice with the girls in their colorful formals and the boys in dress suits. Some of the numbers we sang were, Ole Man River, with Roger Linquist soloist, Stout Hearted Men, and Summer Time. There was also a girls' octette from Celoron singing A Wonderful Guy.

After the concert on November 21 we started working on music for our Christmas concerts. We sang for the PTA on December 16, two assemblies one at Celoron and one at Lakewood, on December 19, and for the Kiwanis at the Lakewood Village Hall on December 22. Some of the special numbers were, Gesu Bambino, with Ellowyn Penhollow soloist, Lullaby on Christmas Eve, with Luhe Lawson soloist, and Come to the Stable sung by Carole Hinderer.

The operetta The Lowland Sea was our largest project of the year. It was performed April 30 and May 1 at the Celoron school.

We are looking forward to the Fredonia Festival in May. If we are to maintain the high standard we had last year, we are going to have to do some serious practising. It's hard work to prepare for Fredonia, but in the end we find it worthwhile if we can come home with an "A" rating.

Our last appearance of the year is the program for Commencement when we sing three numbers.

We are especially thankful for our pianists Gladys Johnson and Nancy Hendler, who have helped make the chorus an outstanding organization in our school.

Souwesternaires'

The Southwestern Central band started off the year by electing some capable officers. In the Celoron branch we chose Arlee Powell as president, Brian Anderson as vice president. Anne Lamberson is secretary treasurer. In the Likewood branch the president chosen was Jack Penhollow. Ronald Merwin is vice president and Pauline Evinczik is secretary-treasurer. Although the combined band is unable to meet regularly, their two concerts for band only and one concert with the chorus were excellent. Those who were selected to attend All State at Randolph were: Jack Penhollow, Priscilla Bailey, Cynthia McKay, Arlee Powell, Diane Rood, Kathryn Hendler, Alfred Parker and Anne Lamberson. We started the year by playing at all home football games and at the Fredonia game. At the concert played with the chorus we played a program of Spanish and Latin American music which was well received. Outstanding soloists this year include Jack Penhollow, trumpet; Priscilla Bailey, flute, Kathryn Hendler, oboe and piano; Arlee Powell, baritone; Anne Lamberson, clarinet; Alfred Parker, French horn; and Gladys Johnson, piano. Most of the soloists competed at Fredonia. The band worked very hard to repeat the "A" rating which they received at last year's Fredonia Festival. The band was honored this year by being asked to play at assemblies at both the Ashville and Fredonia schools. Other band activities for the year include playing for the P.T.A., for assemblies at both schools, playing the overture to the operetta, The Lowland Sea, and marching in the Memorial Day parade. The band members would like to thank Mr. Turner for his help in making this year not only successful for us but also enjoyable. He has been very generous with his time, too, to help us with private lessons.

Celoron Senior Dance Club Enters a New Step

The Dance Club is under the direction of Mrs. Rhodes and Miss Helphinstine. Its officers are president, Dick Harrison, vice president, Pat Babyak, secretary-treasurer, Janet Veitz. We have been learning many new dance steps such as the tango, rumba, jitterbug, and waltz.

This year's Junior Dance Club was organized under the guidance of Mrs. Dennison and Mrs. Hardy. The following are officers: president, Dodya Warner, vice president, Suzanne Johnson, secretary, Janice Manross, treasurer, Andrew Scalise. We met on alternate Wednesdays. We have enjoyed several "Ladies Days."

At the beginning of the school year Peggy Bergstrom was chosen to represent the girls as Senior Dance Club treasurer and Bob Bergstrom was chosen for the boys.

The Junior Dance Club had a successful year with Cecch Jones and Winifred Hennes to name everyone who attended at over the Daisy May Dance and the Christmas party.

Student Symposium

The gavel fell, President David Truax, assisted by Secretary-Treasurer Beverly Heintzman, called the meeting to order, and the Debate Club's second season began.

After much planning and preparation, we launched our first assembly debate of the year resolved: Negro Segregation Should be Abolished. The Negative side presented by David Truax, Sally Parsons, and Jillson Krueger defeated the Affirmative side of Beverly Heintzman, Priscilla Bailey, and Henry Krueger. The judges were Mr. Miller, Mr. Rood and Mrs. Sayers.

The next thing on the agenda was a symposium for the P.T.A. on the premise: Do Sororities and Fraternities have a place in the modern High School? Participants in this group were: D. Truax, S. Parsons, B. Heintzman, P. Bailey and H. Krueger.

The Debate Club plans another debate to be held in the Celoron Auditorium soon. As this is written, neither the subject nor the sides have been chosen.

The aim of the Debate Club is to encourage people to become more aware of vital problems at home and abroad.

We wish to sincerely thank our advisors, Mrs. Kistler and Mr. Habich, for all the help and guidance they have given us in the past year.

Spokesmen

The Celoron Debate Club was organized in the fall of 1952. Mr. Irving Miller is our advisor. The Board of Education supplemented our reference library with instructive manuals on Debating.

Shortly after our organization half of the members were divided into two teams to debate for assembly on the topic: Resolved: That Eighteen Year Olds Should have the Right to Vote. Members of the affirmative and negative respectfully included: Anton Neubauer and Grace Peterson, Jerry Mead and Bruce Gokey. The affirmative team won.

Several weeks later the remaining members debated for another assembly, the topic, Resolved: That the United States Should Support a Program of U. M. T. Affirmative and negative members were Bennie Stevens, Frank Workins, Ronald Renaldo and Joyce La Quay, Marjorie Starkweather, Frank Mallare. The negative team won.

Later, we received our national topic "Resolved: That the NATO countries should form a federal union." We accepted an invitation from Lamestown and entered the competition in two men debate teams.

We have found debating to be of great value to us in all classes.

Seated: B. Stevens, B. Gokey, J. LaQuay, J. Mead, M. Starkweather, F. Workins, G. Peterson, R. Renaldo, F. Mallare. Standing: A. Neubauer, Mr. I. Miller.

Under the able leadership of Mr. Weiss, the Lakewood Branch Camera Club became fully organized this year after two years of only partial organization. Due to the large number of candidates for Camera Club during the first semester it was found to be necessary to restrict memberships to juniors and seniors the second semester.

The purpose of the club is to instruct members in the art of taking better pictures, developing and enlarging, and displaying them to the best advantage. The club has been working on Centralian pictures during the first semester. All club members have been urged to take pictures on their own, studying composition, lighting, and other factors necessary to good pictures. The balance of the year will be spent processing, enlarging, and touching up these pictures.

The club has the use of some fine equipment including an improved enlarger.

We have found photography a fascinating hobby and one which a person might well use as a vocation in later years. We have found that being able to take pictures helps us appreciate others.

FTA Unit

The Mi-Y is one of the newer organizations in the Celoron branch school. It is made up of junior and senior high school girls and is affiliated with the Y.M.C.A. in Jamestown.

Last spring we elected the following girls as officers of our club: president, Sandra Gardiner, with Eleanor Bauer as vice president. The Secretary is Nancy Gibbs and the treasurer, Charlotte Reynolds. The Chaplain is Mary Widegren.

Early in the fall we had a hike and cooked our supper out of doors. We had a very successful bakesale which has helped finance many of our other projects.

Eleanor Bauer, Margaret Logan, and Charlotte Reynolds represented us at the Y Teen Conference in Buffalo in January.

We made tray favors for a hospital at Easter time.

A program committee appointed earlier in the year arranged a very interesting program. We are looking forward to the Mother and Daughter Dinner in May and a picnic at Mrs. Deunk's home in June.

A Future Teachers of America Unit was organized at Southwestern late in the year. A special assembly was held at the Celoron branch, sponsored by the Southwestern Faculty Association, at which Miss Helen Overs and a panel of members from the Jamestown unit spoke to more than seventy-five from both branches who had indicated their interest in such an activity.

An organization meeting was held soon after this assembly at which officers were elected. Bonnie McCann was chosen president, Cynthia McKay, vice president, Ross Gardner, secretary, and Alice Robinson, treasurer. The group chose Mrs. Deunk, Miss Lopus and Mrs. Gross as their faculty advisors.

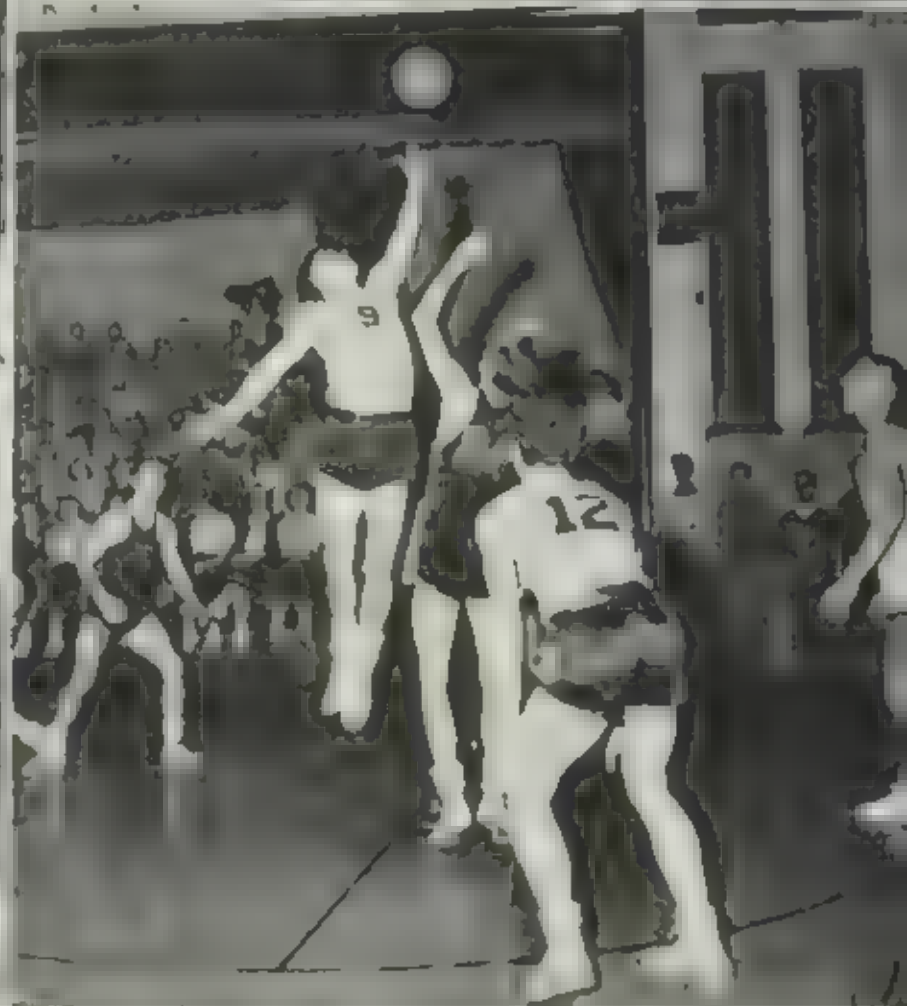

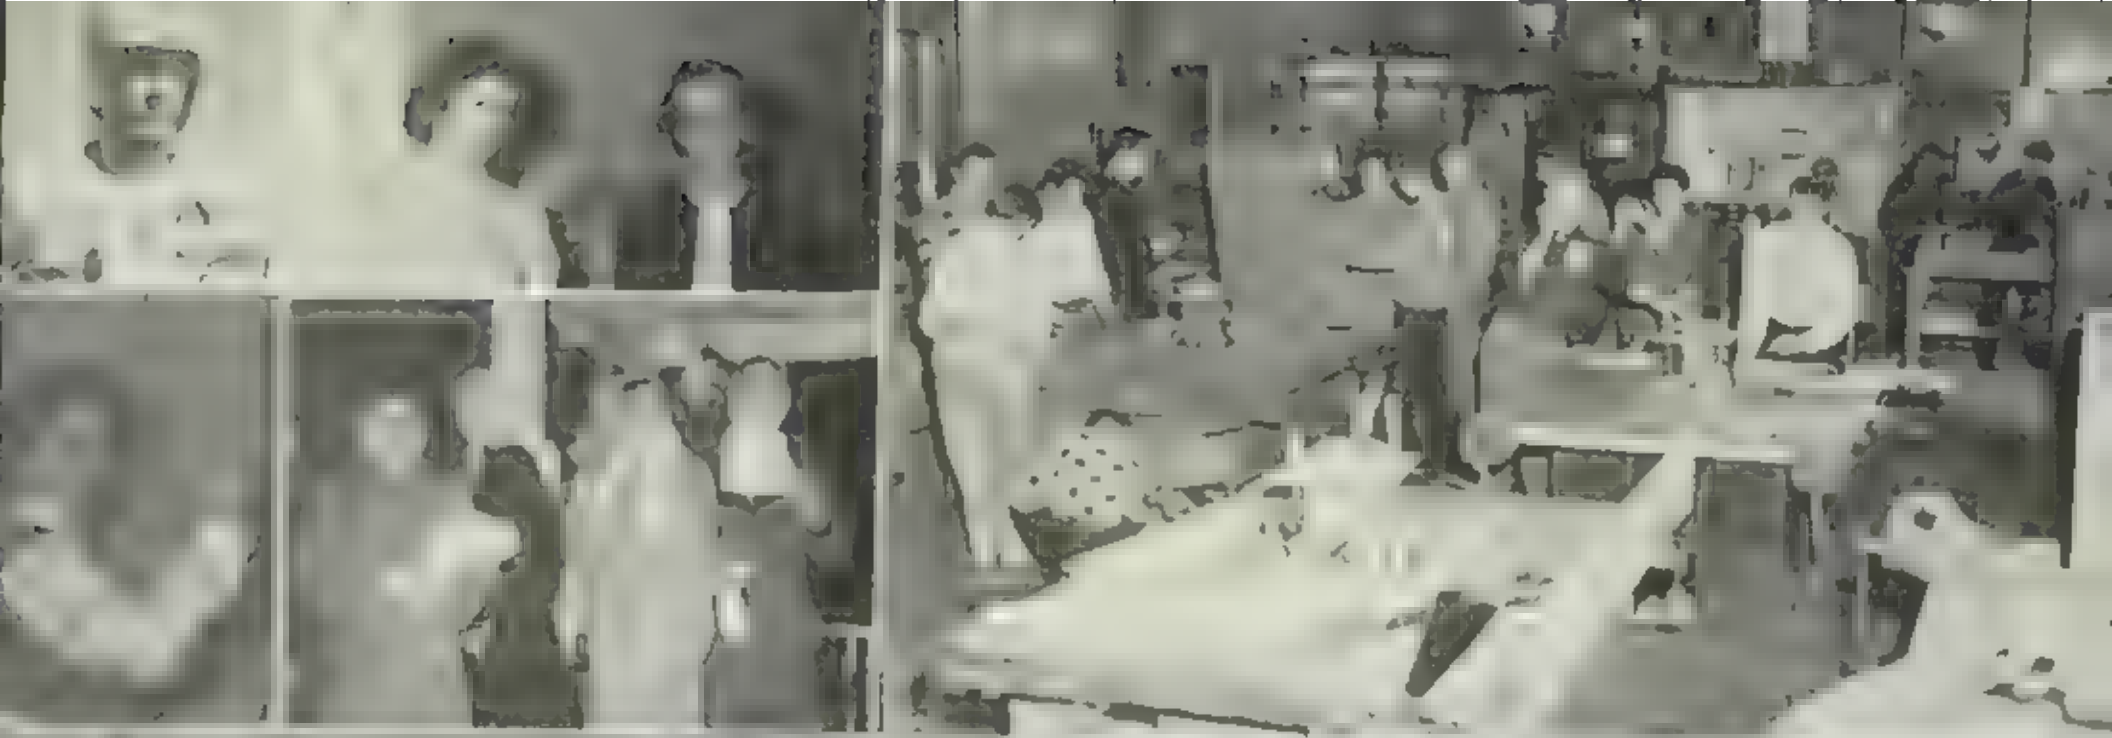

The board of education heartily endorsed this organization and gave permission for the members to participate in limited classroom activities as teachers' assistants. Most of the members were interested in lower grade work where they will assist at various times during the day whenever they do not have a regular class.

This is a national organization with units in both high schools and colleges. Its prime purpose is to give students an insight into classroom work "from the other side of the fence."

Swift Sprinters

The Trojan tracksters of 1952, although failing in their quest for a repeat Section VI Class "A" championship, nevertheless experienced and excellent season on the cinderpaths under the tutelage of Mentor Joe Rushin.

In three independent meets the Troymen triumphed over Falconer and tied Fredonia in dual engagements, and dropped a triple session with Falconer and Fredonia to the Billies. They finished third in the County and Conference encounters, and lost the Sectional crown to the Gowanda spikers but took enough points to finish a strong second.

Incomparable Jack Wigley; in the 100 and broad jump, fleet footed Grant Denn in the 440, and Phil (Perpetual Motion) Ellsworth in the distance run, were shining lights in the Red and Blue track ensemble. Ellsworth maintained an unbeaten string through the camp, besting Eden's previously undefeated Bob Everhardt in the Sectionals at Amherst, unleashing a terrific finishing kick to bring home the mile trophy in the sparkling time of 4:44.8. Denn nosed out teammate Wigley for the "A" broad jump honors, the only other Trojan to capture his event in the final.

Stellar Sackmen

The boys came through. Playing with the hustle and drive and championship calibre that was theirs, the Trojan nine of '52 carved a lasting niche in the annals of Southwestern proudly hanging up their spikes after a 9-1 season that brought with it the Lake Shore and Bi-County titles. Even in defeat, the men of Coach Dick Shevahir covered themselves with glory, showing the class of a truly great team as they dropped a heart breaking 3-0, 12 inning verdict at the Section VI finals in Otterman Stadium, Buffalo.

Southwestern's "Big Three" of Wally Carlson, Ron Lank and Dick Wigley fired three no-hit, no-run efforts in the course of the 10 game schedule. Lank tossed his no-no at the Packard Field diamond, blanking Randolph's Cardinals 2-0. Carlson's feat was even more outstanding as the pressure was on when he handcuffed the Panthers of Gowanda Yigh, 13-0 in the B-County playoff. All three combined to whitewash Westfield, 4-0.

Any resume of baseball must include the name of Jack Wigley. Perhaps the greatest player in the history of baseball at the Lakewood Celoron merger, his exploits in the field and at the plate will always be a source of joy to followers of the diamond sport. When the chips were down, Jack was there. Last season he led in stolen bases, pilfering 6; in hits, with 12; in runs with 16; and he finished second to brother Dick's .367 batting mark, clouting the pill at a .353 clip.

His absence will be sorely felt, as will those of Tony Barone, the pint sized centerfielder who made a specialty of drawing free tickets, working 12 passes from enemy hurlers; Lenny Erikzon, who covered the hot corner like a blanket; Paul Truver, who broke the tension with a gag as often as he broke up the ball game with a base hit; Grant Denn, whose speed on the base paths served the Troymen no end; Dick Kahle, the peppery second-sacker; and Wally Carlson and Ron Lank, who held the opposition to 9 runs or an average of 1 per contest.

Shevahir will have undoubtedly built this year's club around first baseman Dick Wigley, who belted across 18 runs, and Roger MacTavish, rifle-armed little catcher who returned for his third campaign behind the plate. Material such as this, under the expert tutelage of a fine coach, will have made the Trojans of '53 an outfit to be reckoned with.

Systematic Scorers

The beginning of school in the fall also brought life to the Packard Field in Lakewood, where the Southwestern Central Trojans put their players in condition for the football season. Undeclared season to make it their fourth in a row.

September 19 The first game of the season saw the Trojans fighting hard to hold their undefeated record, which they did very successfully by downing Salamanca 25-6.

September 25 The Trojans entered into the game against the Jamestown J. V.'s with the idea of keeping the unbeaten record and this led them the way to victory 14-0.

October 3 The men of Troy fell in defeat thus stopping their record at 24. They put up a great fight but Fredonia scored with four minutes remaining to claim first place. The final score was 12-7.

October 10 The game against Gowanda seemed to put the Trojans back in their win ways when they downed the Panthers 27-6.

October 26 Desire to make up for the loss of game to the Hilltoppers drove the Trojans on to their win over Falconer 26-6.

October 31 The Trojans made the perfect recovery from their loss by taking their final game from Westfield 25-6.

RAY WARNER Played a very good year at end and won a place on the second string ALL STARS.

BRUCE TURNER: Held back the opposition and looks good for next year's squad.

TOM SWEARINGEN: Put the ball right where it was wanted and made second string center on the ALL STARS.

PAUL EVINCZIK: "Loonie" did a fine job holding up the line.

ERIC ECKLUND Made first string tackle on the ALL STARS.

DICK WIGLEY: Good receiver and made a position on the first string ALL STARS.

WALLY CARLSON Although only a sophomore played good ball in the quarter-back position.

JERRY SCORSE: Earned a spot on the second string ALL STARS.

JOHN SCORSE: Played good ball both offensively and defensively.

DAN MCCARTY Made the second string ALL STARS.

JOHN WELSHOFER Played a good season at right Tackle.

SUBSTITUTES: Looked like very good material for the coming year.

COACH RUSHIN: Main person to the whole team and showed great coaching ability.

ASSISTING COACHES: Deserve great credit for the help they gave in pulling the team in shape.

The varsity cheerleading squad was composed of eight rookies. Practice was held every night before football started. Finally, the squad had learned the old cheers and added a few new ones. These eight rookies were Madelyn Stranigan, Prudence Mitchell, Carolyn Peterson, Mary Lou Moore, Bonnie McClann, Judy Garrison, Georgia Cardy, and Pauline Evinczik. Our advisors were Miss Pauline Helphenstein, and Miss Betty Jo Mac Millan. For football we chose navy blue slacks and red turtle-neck sweaters and red jumpers with white blouses were used for basketball.

The traditional snake dance was held in Lake wood the night before the Falconer game. A large hoop which the players jumped through was used for the Falconer basketball game. The squad of 1953 hopes that next year the cheerleaders will continue to have the spirit and enthusiasm which has been traditional with the cheerleaders of the past.

Self-confident

Coach Dick Shevalier's 8th grade basketeers showed classy ballhandling and shooting ability for boys of their age, trimming Bemus Point twice and splitting a pair of contests with Ashville to make a 3-1 record.

Ron Burstrom and Dave Traniello were kingpins in the Trojan fledgling's attack.

Stiff Season

If determination wrought through hours of hard practice will insure a good net result, then the football fates of future Trojan teams can rest securely on the sturdy shoulders of last year's freshmen pigskin squad

Outsized, outmanned, but never outfought, the boys of Milt Harp proved their mettle as they rang up sparkling wins over Lincoln and Falconer, tied Jefferson, and dropped decisions to Washington and Warren.

Dennis Simmons and Jerry Pomeroy did exemplary work at their backfield posts, as did John Johnson and Art Whiteman, forward wall bulwarks.

Kneeling: I. Scorse, R. Van Every, F. Mallare, J. Miller. Standing: B. Crocker, R. Mac Tavish, D. Wigley, F. Olson, R. Warner, W. Tibbetts, M. Faulkner, T. Swearingen, Mr. Munson

Sharp Shooters

The 1952-1953 Trojan basketball quintet rolled to victory in 13 of 16 contests, finishing runners up in the Lake Shore Loop for the second straight season. The Men of Coach Gene Munson provided the fans some brilliant exhibitions of talent that paved the way for a 7-3 league record and a sweep of 6 independent outings.

Seven seniors, including the entire first team, have donned the red and blue for the last time. 6'2" kingpin Ray Warner, who poured 238 points through the rim and was a constant menace under the backboards, has concluded a fine high school athletic career. Driving Rog MacTavish, the spark plug guard of this year's outfit, will be a hard man to replace. Devastating on the boards and a deadly shot, Dick Wigley will leave Southwestern, much to the delight of rival mentors. Bert Crocker, who was unstoppable at times and whose shot saved the Jamestown game, is another front court man that will have to be supplanted. Milt Faulkner, the last of the starters, played a fine game while holding down the other guard slot. Rog VanEvery and Tommy Swearingen, although substitutes, were vital factors in the success enjoyed by this year's team.

Fred Olson, Frank Mallare, and vastly improved Wesley Tibbetts will provide the nucleus for the '53-'54 campaign. Coach Munson faces a stiff task, but we have confidence in his ability to mold another winning outfit.

Strengthen Scorers

Dressed in their gay scarlet jumpers and snowy white blouses, the basketball cheerleaders were always on hand to lead a rousing cheer whether the going was good or whether it was tough.

During the basketball season a number of pep assemblies were held at which the cheerleaders taught new cheers to the student body and encouraged them to attend the games to back up the team.

Basketball season, being one of the few sports seasons held entirely indoors, gives the cheerleaders a real workout, and gives the students an excellent chance to "make the rafters ring."

Second String

The Southwestern JV basketball forces, under the patient guidance of Coach Rushin completed a 16 game slate with a 10-6 record. Displaying at times some fine ball-handling finesse and shooting ability, the Trojan understudies progressed steadily through the year to assure Gene Munson some fine performances in their remaining 2 years of eligibility.

Next season's varsity will welcome the addition of such boys as Gary Johnson, whose all around playmaking was perhaps the most important single factor in the JV success; Wally Carlson, who developed at a phenomenal rate and was controlling the boards at the conclusion of the schedule; and Frank Traniello, who carried a 16 point average for 8 games before leaving the squad and moving to California.

To Joe Rushin, congratulations on having instilled in these lads the equipment with which to play ball the Southwestern way—with drive, ability, and desire.

The JV. and Freshman Cheerleaders have had a lot of fun cheering their teams this year. Both groups have developed some fine talent for the future Varsity Squads.

The JV's in their natty corduroy jumper with the "swing" skirts, and the Frosh in their red corduroy skirts and white turtle-neck sweaters have led the cheers which have encouraged the boys to fight because they knew the cheering section was backing them at every turn of events.

Skillful

The baby hoopsters the 1953 Chadakoin Valley league schedule with three wins against seven losses, finishing third in the six-team circuit.

Coach Windoft's boys proved that drive and spirit can go a long way toward making up for lack of height and experience. The skills of this season will remain at hand for their many years to come.

The team had no individual standout, working together as a finely blended unit. Ken Schneider and Dick Vanham were top men in the scoring column, Schneider netting 165 points for a fine 16.5 average.

Sports Spotlight

Since our coaches are such a vital part of our sports program at Southwestern we decided to inquire into their backgrounds to see just what makes them so successful at training our teams, not only for championships, but for all around good sportamanship.

C. E. SWEARINGEN: As Director of Athletics, Mr. Swearingen tops them all when it comes to years of service at Southwestern. Coming fresh from Syracuse University 24 years ago, he had no previous coaching experience. However, he has been very active in building up the sports department to its present fine caliber. He says his favorite sport right now is golf.

MILTON HARP: So as not to seem to play favorites, we'll list the other five alphabetically starting with Mr. Harp who has seen six years of activity at Southwestern. Coming here in 1946 from Allegheny College where he had been too busy to take a very active part in sports, he now finds himself busy with Junior Varsity baseball and Freshman football. He was assisted in the latter sport by Mr. Weeks this past season. Mr. Harp is an all-around sport fan, but thinks he favors baseball over the others.

EUGENE MUNSON: Of all the six coaches, Mr. Munson is the only one with previous coaching experience. An assignment at Sagertown, Pennsylvania followed his attendance at Edinboro State Teachers and Gannon. Mr. Munson, too, is an all-around athlete who says, "whatever sport's in season that's my favorite." He is head Varsity basketball coach and assistant in football.

JOSEPH RUSHIN: Another coach who has seen six years action at Southwestern, Mr. Rushin came here from East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. Rushin's specialties are football, J V. basketball and track. When it comes to his own relaxation, Coach Rushin prefers bowling and golf.

RICHARD SHEVALIER: Another six year man, Coach Shevalier is a graduate of Cortland State Teachers. He works now with football, volleyball and assists with basketball. He favors hunting, fishing and baseball when he can have his choice of recreation.

BYRON WINDOFT: Another coach with three years experience at Southwestern, Mr. Windoft is another graduate of Edinboro. This past season he coached the Freshman basketball team, and lists basketball and golf as his favorite pastimes.

Sectional Stars

The Trojans of Southwestern again came through in Section VI volleyball competition, blasting their way to victory on the Dunkirk hardwood. It took the well-balanced Troymen only two games to assure victory as they pounded out decisive 15-7, 15-3 wins over a sturdy sextette from Frontier.

Led by the setting of Rog MacTavish, the spiking of his immediate teammate, Ray Warner, and the defensive play of Gary Johnson, Milt Faulkner, and Dick Lepley, they outmanned the Orange and Black assuring victory for the fifth straight year. Last year the Trojans also garnered the county crown but were unable to get by a powerful Dunkirk combine in this year's competition at Jamestown High School. Coach Shevalier's charges showed well in the morning exercises, losing but three encounters, the first two against the championship Dunkirk team and the third to Jamestown. Those receiving mention on this year's squad are Mac MacTavish, Captain; Ray Warner, Milt Faulkner, Dick Lepley, Gary Johnson, Bert Crocker, "Red" Robbins, Bob Plank, John Scorse, Bob Reeves, Sam Gerace and Dick Wigley. Congratulations to Coach Shevalier for the fine job he's done in years past and will do in years to come.
